Hexaware names Epic9 as Exclusive Partner for Cloud Foundation and Cloud Engineering Services

Iselin, New Jersey, <Date> - Hexaware, a leading global IT consulting and digital solutions provider, has announced a partnership with Epic9, a solution-led cloud engineering and automation services provider. This partnership will bolster Hexaware's Cloudify Everything® strategy with Epic9's BuiltRight Cloud Foundation and HeadStart Digital Accelerator capabilities and cloud engineering services.

The migration to Cloud for businesses targeting increased productivity, business agility and accelerated digital transformation while eyeing top-line and bottom-line growth, has only been further expedited by the global pandemic with pressures of increased complexity and a decentralized workforce.

Hexaware has been a key enabler in this space by launching Amaze® for Applications (May 2020), an advanced application cloud re-platforming product suite utilizing maximum automation, enhanced customer experiences, and future-ready flexibility to help cut down on migration time and save on TCO and implementation costs.

Epic9's flagship offering, BuiltRight Cloud Foundation, is the first and only comprehensive and fully automated, rich UI-based, cloud engineering solution that guarantees implementation of an enterprise-grade Cloud Foundation and a Cloud Management Platform in under 4 weeks with 50+ foundational Cloud capabilities for enterprise-wide use.

With Epic9's BuiltRight Cloud Foundation and the cloud migration and modernization capabilities of Amaze ®, Hexaware will be uniquely positioned to provide organizations with the fastest path to value in cloud and digital innovation. It will enable Hexaware to continue to expand its footprint in cloud migration and legacy transformation services to help organizations securely transform and operate while also realizing competitive advantage and lowering costs.

Sharing his perspective, Milan Bhatt, Executive Vice President, Cloudify Everything® & Global Head - Healthcare & Insurance, said, "The strategic partnership with Epic9 focused on automation, innovation and cloud engineering will help our customers accelerate their cloud transformation roadmap for greater agility, resilience and competitive advantage."
